At Island Ten it was the enormous mortars, in their curious floats, which astonished them. The other day the little Monitor gave them a shock; and now, at Fort Pula ki, the Savannah Republican iose effects, though probably exaggerated in the and convinced them of the prudence of surrendering. The story that these steel-printed shot erced holes through the stout walls of the fort is doubtless untrue. The guns are at seven hundred yards from the walls; and experiment has shown that the highest power of an elongated shot is at thirty yards, at which distance the shot have penetrated eight feet but into sand. The accuracy of our fire with these new steel pointed elongated issiles probably had another effect, more formidable than drilling holes through the walls, namely, to dismount the barbette guns and to destroy others by aring into the ports. The end is not vet. It is already known that the Monitor has been supplied with wrought-iron shot, and that

It would not be prudent to speak of other novelties "in preparation." as the theatrical managers have it: but the inventive genius of the "Yankee nation" is not exhausted; and if the Merrimac comes out again, or if Fort Sumter resists when Hunter summons it, the rebels may look for yet other

The Secessionists at Paducah asserted that the rebel army at Corinth was rapidly being augmented to a force 150,000 strong; that the plan of the rebel leaders, as avowed in camp and made known to their friends abroad, was to make a sudden and tremendous attack upon Gen. Grant March 14.

Wisconsin Troops Ordered to New Mexico—
Wisconsin has a large stake in the forthcoming expedition to New Mexico. The expedition as made up, thus far, consists of the Twelfth and Thirteenth Wisconsin, and the First, Scond, and Seventh K uses infantry, to be accompanied by two batteries of artillery, one from Wisconsin and the other from Indiana. They are to march to Fort Riley, one hundred and fifty miles west of Lawrence, there to receive a complete outfit for a long campaign. The supply trains have already been sent there. The distance to be marched is about eight hundred miles, most of the way ever a beaten road upon the treeless plains, which has been traveled by Santa Fe

TUESDAY, APRIL 22, 1862.

The Buffalo Commercial Advertises one of the chief Republican journals of Western New York, has the following short article PETITIONS FOR THE ABOLITION OF SLAVERY. We regret to notice that Congress is still besieged with petitions, great and small, for the abolition of slavery.

That body has done a right thing, and a glor ons thing, in abolishing slavery within the trict of Columbia. This is all the "aboliti trict of Columbia. This is all the adoution has the power to secomplish, and it should now be let alone. Those who persist in urging it? legislate for the universal abolition of slavery merely prove themselves to be fanatics and disturbers—for Congress does not claim the right t abolish slavery in the slave States, and certainly will not make the attempt to do so.

Let well appunch alone good people.

Let well enough alone, good people. We have no doubt that herein the Commer cial Advertiser speaks for the bulk of the Republican party. Indeed, several Republican members of Congress expressly advocated the bia on the ground that the adoption of the measure would exhaust the power of Congress over slavery, and thus serve to extinguish agition would put into the hands of the seces-Let them use vigorously whatever handle the Gen. Anderson at Nashville, as follows: measure puts into their hands against the abolitionists. The work is a duty they owe to themselves as well as to their country. Weare glad to see that our Buffalo contemporary has put his hand to the work. We hope he will be followed promptly and energetically by all other Rapublican journalists.

THE WAY TO WASHINGTON. - The way to Washington is not supposed, we believe, to be through the long dark tunnel of the old proverb "Honesty is the best policy." That may be on the moral railroad thither, but we are assured by an able conductor who has travelled it often that it is "a private station." There may be a Diogones in each of the Departments, and he may be at the head of either, but, if so, the "honest man," after whom his lantern is blinking in the long waiting-halls, is not always sought for an office. And as for the Capitol, the great dome was never intended it may fit him.

All this, by the way, primarily. But the passing through the fertile and beautiful valley and eastward to Bellaire, is simply, in our in the following language: opinion, over the newly opened route of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. The interruption of transit for almost and very nearly

While the company have suffered the loss of so many months' use of their road, the road itself has gained the great interest that human history gives to material nature. From Harper's Ferry, from Martinsburg, from Cumberland, from Cheat Mountain pass, are the side-tracks into history which topographical engineers cannot lay and which furious madmen cannot tear up. The sunsets that fill the blue gorges of the Alleghenies have now something more than "the light of setting suns." The peaceful Pennsylvania wagons of years gone by have taken "U. S." upon their canvas covers, and in long trains have crawled-legitimate army wormsdown and up the long slopes. This calling out of the female warriors of the South cannot fail to increase the U.S. armies fourfold, if the authorities at Washington will consent to the increase. All the hope of taking captive a charming beauty of the soft and sunny South.

A Texas paper suggests that all the old type metal in the Confederacy be used for moulding bullets. But why confine the idea to the old types? Gen. Anderson at Nashville, as follows:

Dear General: I beg to treuble you with an inquiry, and possibly with a request. The labors which my position as political Editor of the Courier imposs on me, and which I have performed without intermission or assistance for nearly two years, save and except only when I was in attendance as a delegate at the Conventions of Charleston and Baltimore, in April and June of last year, are affecting my health to such an extent that I deem it necessary to seek service of another and more active nature. It has occurred to me that I might secure the spointment of Aid to some one of the Generals Tennessee has called cut. I have as many personal friends at as few personal enomies as any man of my age in Kentucky, and I have thought that my connection in some active manner with the Southern Army would possibly have a BENEFICIAL EFFECT ON THE STATE OF PUBLIC FEELING Here!

Your most obedient servant, R. McKEE.

Your most obedient servant, R. McKEE. P. S. Not a word of news since my last, except an announcement that at least a portion of the Home Guards will take service under Gen. Sumpter Anderson. I think there is little doubt that Louisville will soon be occupied by Federal troops.

This was written two or three weeks before Magoffin had called the extra session of the as a night-cap for "Honest Old Abe," though Kentucky Legislature. These form a perfect chain of evidence against McKee, and show that he was not merely the misguided and impetuous young man we all leniently thought him to be, but that he was a malignant traitor, who was secretly plotting the enslavement of the State to the Southern Confederacy, and laying the train for all the accumulated evils which have since befallen Kentucky.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Com monwealth of Kentucky:

1st. That section one of article two, of Chapter 52, of the Revised Statutes, title "inspection," he so amended as to include in addition to the articles named in said section, hydro-carbon oil-aro oils made from coal, petroleum or well oil for illuminating purposes.

2. That all such oils, or citer produce of coal, petroleem, or well oil, made or intended for illuminating purposes, manufactured in this State, or brought into this State for sale, before the same is sold, be duly inspected.

3. The quality of said oils shall be tested by the sp plication of heat, and that all of said oils that will, at a les temperature than 150 degrees, Fahrenheit's ther mometer, give out or produce an explosive vapor, shall be deemed unsale, and the cask or other package containing the same shall be so marked by the inspector;
otherwise, it shall be marked "safe"

4. Whoever shall sell, or offer to sell, any cask or vell oil, for illuminating purposes, without first having he same duly inspected, or shall, after the said oils r othered to be sold.

5. For inspecting a single cask or package the Inpector shall be allowed fifteen cents, for more than on

GLOUDS.

The letter of Cuthbert Bullitt, Eq., Mayor Monroe of New Orleans is published in our paper this morning in the hope that it may reach its destination by means of some flag of truce from our advanced army. All the unfor tunate Confederate wounded have implored Mr. Bullitt to write to their families and friends, but it would be needless to accede to this request, as the letters could not be forwarded. If Genera Wool will send a copy of this paper by the next flag to Norfolk, or Generals Halleck, Buell or Mitchell find an opportunity of similar character they will be doing a humane act.

JEWISH FEAST .- The Jewish feast of the Pass over, inaugurated on Monday, closed yesterday. During the eight days our Hebrew friends eat the unleavened bread, many of the stricter ones suspending business for the time. During this season, also, the Jewish families clean their entire bouses, and use plate and crockery especially kept for the occasion. The Sidar service is an important ceremony, during which bitter herbi are eaten, and the story of the departure of the children of Israel is retold. A peculiar wine, made of raisins, is drunk, and a glass set apart for Elias. The master of the house dips his fingers in the wine, and, shaking the drops on the table cloth, pronounces the names of the nine plagues of Egypt. Many other ceremonies are performed, either in the households or the synagogues, one of which is the fasting of all the firstborn sons. These ceremonies are commemorative of the afflictions of the Hebrews and their final escape from the Egyptians, and have been observed since the time of Moses and Aaron. SHERIFF OF OLDHAM -We are told that the Union men of O'dham county will probably meet in convention for the purpose of nominating a candidate for the office of Sheriff of that county, and perhaps also candidates for other county offices; and as the county is overwhelmingly in favor of "the Union, the Constitution, and the enforcements of the laws," we trust that no one whose record and antecedents are doubtful on this point will be nominated for any office in the gift of the people of that county. Our friend Mr. William W. Worlan, a tried and staunch unconditional Union man, is a candidate for the nominature to the office of Sheriff, and as his qualifications as a business man, and his fitness for the position in every respect are unquestionable, we hope he may be nominated.

THE NASHVILLE UNION. -This paper, recently started by S. C. Mercer, Esq., is vigorously edited and has attained a very large circulation, which is rapidly increasing. We are somewhat surprised that our business men have not availed themselves of it as an advertising medium. Money is beginning to be plentiful in Nashville and the stocks of all kinds want replenishing. If our citizens have staples to sell they should let Union offers the facilities for them to do so. Mr. C. S. Jenkins has been appointed agent to solicit advertisements, and we advise our merchants upon whom he calls to have them ready. The reopening of trade between our two cities will most materially tend to restore the former era of good

It is known that Mr. Thomas C. Shanks member of the Board of Aldermen from the Fourth Ward, is a candidate for the office of Jailer of Jefferson county. There is a provision of the city charter which renders a candidate for any office under the city. State, or Federal goverzment incompetent to sit in either board. Mr. Shanks was advised by good legal authority, however, that he could retain his seat and continue the canvass for the jailership. The question was raised in his board last evening, and a committee was appointed to report upon the case at the next regular meeting of the General Council. For the time Mr. Shanks was relieved from duty as an Alderman.

HONORS TO COL. WOODRUFF.-Upon his arrival in New York from Richmond, Col. Wm. E. Woodruff, of this city, was tendered the compli ment of a dinner and serenade by the members of the Sixty-ninth Regiment, known as Col. Corcoran's. Col. Woodruff's engagements, however, made it necessary for him to decline the compli ment. We find the correspondence, which is honorable alike to the gallant Sixty-ninth and the brave Woodsuff, in the Irish American of Satur-

THEATRE. - Mr. Neafic appeared last evening to an excellent audience and performed Virginius very beautifully. To-night he assumes the character of Jack Cade in Judge Conrad's tragedy, written for Edwin Forrest, and he has the permission of the great tragedian to refform it. Mr. Neafie has improved greatly, and he always exhibits the evidences of careful study. We trust that he will play a profitable engagement.

PARSON BROWNLOW'S BOOK -Agents will call on our citizens for subscriptions to this narrative of Mr. Brownlow's adventures in Eastern Tennessee, and its "truth will be stranger than fiction." His suffering; for his Union sentiments, and the indomitable bravery with which he resisted all the aggressions of the secessionists and all attempts to subjugate him, will furnish ample material for a most interesting volume.

A dead man was left at Owensboro, by the steamer Fairchild, on the 16th inst. From the best information gathered, his name was J. Kyle, and belonged to the 17th Louisiana regiment. His remains lie buried, in a metallic coffin, in the public burying-ground. It is hoped this will mee: the eve of some of his friends or family, that they may know that every attention was paid to the deceased.

Col. Glover, with a detachment of troops recently made an excursion into Knox, Adair, Scotland, Lewis, and Shelby counties, in search of bushwhackers. He gave his men orders to shoot all persons found in arms acting as bushwhackers. The result was that seven marauders were killed, and left in the woods where they

COL. WOODRUFF'S LECTURE.-A resolution passed both Boards of the General Council last evening inviting Col. Wm. E. Woodruff, who has recently returned from confinement in the South to relate his prison experience. It is understood that Col. W. will accept the invitation, and that the lecture will be delivered on Wednesday even-wounded and subsequently taken prisoners in the battle of Shiloh, is a young man named W. H. Cunningham, a native of Bridgeport, Ky., but well known as a printer in this city. He is at present in the Eighth street Hospital.

With few exceptions the wounded are doing well. Those of the South lie along side those of the North-all treated equally well-and whatever differences of opinion or feeling there may have been, all is hushed here. The kind Fellow Citizens and Brothers of the Grand Lodge attention which the Government is so careful to provide is bestowed upon all alike. The most skilful surgeons and the very best of nursing is secured. The ladies of the city generally and and the "Sisters of Charity" vie with each ther as to which shall do the most good.

Lieut. Moreno was wounded in both legs, and ell to the ground as the leaden hail storm passed over him. A noble Kentuckian, he says, stopped and placed his knapsack under his head, gave him part of his provisions, and passed on.

The same ball that passed through Mr. Lesappea's leg lodged in the knee of Mr. Messner. I might give many incidents related by the unded, but I have not the heart. I am al ready sick and sad with the terrible sights witnessed as the results of this bloody battle. Let me turn to matters more agreeable. The kindness and attention so liberally shown to the sick and wounded soldiers by the citizens of this plac -especially by the ladies, many of whom visited the battle-field and accompanied them here-is worthy of all praise. Louisville bospitality and her sympathy for human woe and suffering will never be forgotten by the nmates of the hospitals. Those who have died have been buried at that beautiful spot, "Cave Hill Cemetery," their graves all uumbered, and they lav side by side. so that hereafter if their friends desire their renoval they can be easily identified. Many a tear of sorrow floats in the eve of the earth over the memory of the stranger who fills an early grave, far from the home of his childhood and the loved ones whose images are engraved on the heart. The rose and the hyacinth are already planted on the soldier's grave, telling of the visit of some tender, loving heart - perhaps a mother or sister- who are not forgetful of In my visits to the boats and hospitals, I have een greatly aided by my friend Rev. D. P. lenderson, pastor of the Christian Church of this ity, and well known in Louisiana and New Oreans, who is a constant visitor at the hospitals, administering to the spiritual wants of the sick, wounded, and dying. Very respectfully, your frierd, CUTHBERT BULLITT.

A correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal, writing from Washington City, says there are but two fields of wheat to be seen between that city and a distance of sixty miles towards our present outposts. Fences, barns, and houses are to a arge extent destroyed. Some days since a ew of the remaining farmers of the Fairfax ng operations, without fences, each one shut ing up whatever of cattle or hogs they have left. There is a remarkable prespect of outcome to this now desolated section at an early period. Purchasers are now there in large number, examining the whole country, with a view of settlenent. Most of them as yet come from Pennsyl vania. Fine farms having been so numerously abandoned by rebel owners, the manner of sattle ment or purchase becomes difficult, but in such Mrs. Thomas, Miss N. A NEW PROJECTILE .- A despatch from In dianapolis says that a new projectile was tested there on Saturday, the invention of Mr. M. Ritner, of Vincennes. A heavy, malleable target, two inches in thickness, lined with 8 inches solid oak, was perforated through and through with powder, and a ten-pound ball, from a three-inch who, having made an arrangement with a manu new materials, and upon a plan not herstofore tender-hearted, and many a one has fallen to the adopted, claims the serious attention of the Government. Experiments made indicate that it is a complete success. Scientific artillerists, who witnessed the tests, are of the opinion that with 25 pounds of powder and a hundred-pound ball, no iron-clad vessel that can float will be able to with-

Mr. Lane, of Ind., presented a petition from the free colored citizens of the United States, praying for the setting aside a portion of the terpraying for the setting aside a portion of the territory outside the national limits for their colonization, and naming Central America.

Mr. Lane said that while he did not believe that the free colored people were entitled to all the rights and privileges of white citizens of the United States, he nevertheless two red their just right to petition, a right accorded even among the, most despotic governments. It was evident that as slaves were freed here and by our armies, something must be done with them, and emancipation or an apprenticeship system must be GOODS, FANCY ARTICLES, SUMMER CLOTH. something must be done with them, and emaccipation or an apprenticeship system must be adopted, for it was not in accordance with the genius of our institutions that these people should be returned to slavery. He alluded to the great, bloodless, and moral triumph of freedom in the abolition of slavery in the District of Columbia as fully equal to the triumphs of our army by the chivalric and brave sons of the West, to whom he paid a glowing tribute. The memorial was respectful and deserving of the attention of Congress. He desired that it should be read and referred to the Committee on Foreign Relations, which was agreed to.

When Gen. Mitchell reached Decatur, Ala, in the late bridge burning expedition, he took possession of the telegraph office and cut the wires leaving only Decatur and Corinth in telegraphic communication. Beauregard sent a message demanding reinforcement money having been drawn without any just equivalent and without any form of law.

Mr. Colfax disapproved of the St. Louis contracts, but the circumstances under which they were undertaken off red an extenuation for them. Why did gentlemen wait until General Fremont was in the face of the enemy before they malignantly pursued him? Why not wait until the end of the war, instead of so acting as to cause him to lose the confidence of his army in front of the foe.

Mr. Blair replied to Mr. Colfox, that St. Louis here was in danger except from General Fremont who brought with him a gang of returned Californians to the prejudice of the good name of the people of Missouri. He admitted that he was partly influential in placing General Fremont, in command in the West, but he had suffered for it and hoped he would be pardoned.
